

Christine Hawkins AM Profile

Independent Member, Audit and Risk Committee, Appointed 15 July 25 to 14 July 2028

Christine is an established director and non-executive director with her board experience spanning private and public entities, both in Australia and internationally, across a range of industries including education, land, agriculture and primary industries, the environment, investment banking and international aid. She is managing director of Cinnabar International Pty Limited (a corporate advisory service and consultancy), and Chair of ASA Institute of Higher Education.

Christine is known for her dedication towards not-for-profit and community-based entities and is the Chair of The Fred Hollows Foundation Kenya, Member of The Glebe Administration Board Sydney Anglican Diocese (including Member of the Audit and Risk Committee), and non-executive director of The Southern Highlands Botanic Gardens Limited including Chair of the Governance Committee. Her current NSW Government work includes Chair, Finance, Risk and Audit Committee, NSW Local Land Services, Chair, Audit and Risk Committee, NSW Environment Protection Authority, and she is also a Member of The Legislature, NSW Parliament, and Bradfield Development Authority's Audit and Risk Committees.

Her career was largely within the investment banking field operating in a range of roles from Manager, Research Economist to Partner with AusAsean Group Limited, Gresham Partners Limited, Rothschild Australia Limited, Reserve Bank of Australia, Ernst & Young and KMG (now KPMG).

Christine holds Master of Commerce, and Bachelor of Commerce (Hons) from the University of NSW. She also holds a range of industry related certifications such as Fellow, Chartered Professional Accountant, Australia, and Fellow, Australian Institute of Company Directors. She also is a mentor and speaker for Women Chiefs of Enterprises International (Australia), Women on Boards and Agri minds

Christine was awarded member of the Order of Australia conferred in 2019 for significant service to business and commerce, and to primary industry. She is an Honorary Life Member, Nuffield Australia, and a Telstra Businesswomen's Awards finalist in 2002.

[D25/17211: July 2025]