

NAVEENA RAJARETNAM (ENERGY NETWORK REGULATION COMMITTEE MEMBER)

Date	Disclosure made	Relevant Committee duties	Management action	Reasons
1 June 2021 (updated 17 March 2022 and 14 November 2022)	Ms Rajaretnam advised that she had accepted a position with Jemena (Lead Counsel, Regulated Networks), to commence in July 2021. The Jemena group has gas and electricity assets in various jurisdictions including a gas network business in NSW 17 March update: Brookfield Asset Management Inc has acquired 100% of AusNet Services. As a result, AusNet is no longer a related business of the Jemena Group.	Matters concerning: <ul style="list-style-type: none">the ACT cross-border network (EvoEnergy), which is a related business of Jemenathe Victorian cross-border network (AusNet Services) as AusNet Services and Jemena have common shareholders	Ms Rajaretnam will be excluded from participating in, or considering, matters directly concerning Jemena's electricity interests in NSW (and indirectly concerning Jemena's electricity interests in NSW where it could give rise to a conflict). The ENR Committee is to be informed about any changes or proposed changes in Jemena's electricity interests in NSW. Ms Rajaretnam will not receive briefings or participate in Committee decisions on matters relating to AusNet Services, for a period of 12 months from the date of Brookfield's acquisition	There is no conflict of interest between Ms Rajaretnam's appointment and the majority of matters handled by the ENR Committee, as: <ul style="list-style-type: none">the ENR Committee considers electricity regulatory matters, not gas regulatory matters;EvoEnergy and AusNet Services currently have minimal presence in NSW; andNaveena does not have access to IPART's document management system. Management action considered adequate to avoid any conflict or potential conflict relating to Jemena's electricity interests in NSW. Management action to be reviewed in November 2023.
