

Author name: A. Doherty

Date of submission: Thursday, 7 November 2024

Your submission for this review:

Existing residents of Sydney should not have to pay for the growth of the water network. The government has no mandate for population growth due to record breaking immigration. All costs for network expansion needs to be borne by the recipients of the new network.