Submission: I believe the amalgamation of the City of Sydney with Woollahra, Waverley, Randwick and Botany Bay is a positive move. It will reduce doubling (or tripling) up in roles within the councils and will allow for a more strategic view of Eastern Sydney.

This will help to develop the area as a whole with each council having a vested interest and not working together. Also coordinating with state and federal governments for projects concerning the Eastern suburbs will be easier and allow for smoother project management.
