Submission: Since the Abbott government has come into power there has been no intention to better off the society of Australia, the man and his team intend to give people of no benefit wealthy incomes, ie Amalgamation, while they play ignorant to the society that needs the assistance more. They barge through with their intentions with no research or beneficial proof and their actions merely reward themselves and very little of the Australian people.

If actions are made with logical and sensible thinking, and reward and have nothing but a majority of positivity for Australians then let it come to a discussion, but the people of Australia are arguing against all of these government actions. The future of Australia looks grim when the people are not heard and the country is reconstructed without societies consent.
