Submission: To people concerned. I believe that only people that have not got a clue about LMCC or Newcastle City Council would consider merging these two council areas together.

LMCC is the best council in the state whilst NCC is among the worst.

Did the study consider merging the suburbs in north Sydney together ?

LMCC has a larger population greater then The Northern Territory and they want it to be a state. Why not make Lake Macquarie a state, its just as silly a suggestion.
