Submission: I am whole heartly against any rate rise as we simply cannot afford it. Raising it 7.5%over the next few yrs or even just one yr would see us having to sell or on the verge of it. Especially with the price of living consistently rising atm along with the price of fuel. We already are unable to do anything fun with our children or have them do any sporting activities outside of school as we simply cannot afford it. Our budget is as tight as we can get it.
