This rise is devastating. Since the two councils were forced to merge things have gotten progressively worse. Both communities are so different and with so much distance between them it was never going to save money but to find that we are expected to have our rates rise but more than half. It is simple not doable for many in our community. Gundagai has a very modest average wage, people like my parents, my children that live here and friends, we do not live high, we budget and live basically. A rate rise like this is a disaster and the direct result of the forced merger. If the rise was to be forced then the only way I could accept it would be if the council's were de-merged as I firmly believe that is the only way things will improve.
