

Author name: D. Gross

Date of submission: Saturday, 9 November 2024

Your submission for this review:

This is an unreasonably high increase given the other cost of living price increases average Sydneysiders are currently undergoing. It is understandable for there to be a slight increase, but 18% followed by 7% yearly thereafter, without any consideration of what may occur in potential reduced costs of providing the water service is unjustifiable.