I believe that the rate increase it to claw back lost and mismanaged funds to bring accounts into a better state. The stormwater services are very poor considering we are a coastal and lake surrounding council, we deal with waterways in every aspect of the coast and some suburb still don't even have curb and guttering and proper stormwater drainage. Especially the older suburbs close to lakes. Example tuggerahong, San-Remo, and Berkeley Vale. The rate increase will 100% not be utilised on any of these issues and not improve any water quality. Within our lakes or at our taps. Our waste management facilities would be overwhelmed with the increase in housing estates, to deal with this it should be small treatment plants listed in close proximity to these estates with waste water being recycled for parks and purple taps on premises installed through these new estates, this is not done currently and should be either installed by council or developers.
