J7st to add to my original submission. I would like it to be disclosed that if the move of stormwater to our normal rates will see a decrease in our water rates? And wouldn't this show double handling? The council would need to hire engineers, project managers or consultants for the stormwater projects when they would already have this expertise within the Central Coast Water business. I believe this part of the business es could be managed by CC water and project proposals and decisions could be a Joint Venture decided upon by council.
