

Author name: J. Vandemortel

Date of submission: Tuesday, 15 March 2022

Your submission for this review:

The increase of $200 is utterly shocking. Household incomes have not increased and household expenditure has dramatically increased. Perhaps sewerage issues should be funded by developers that have profited substantially with the many new estates that have been built.