

Author name: K. Leadbeatter

Date of submission: Tuesday, 5 November 2024

Your submission for this review:

Cannot understand why pricing increase as developers have to supply service to new estates as part of works not Sydney water who just charge new customers for the service, this alone will increase their profits. Water should be a resource that is affordable and available without filling the pockets of CEOs. Local government and council should allow larger tank installations at residential properties and allow people to be self-sufficient again and not pay for a shit service whether they use it or not.