

Author name: M. Byington

Date of submission: Friday, July 03, 2015

Submission: City of Sydney should remain the size it is. It's large enough to be functional, and if it became larger, it would mean services would decline dramatically.
Sydney is the best running council in Australia and is a blueprint for the world's future in terms of sustainability.