

Author name: Name suppressed

Date of submission: Sunday, 10 November 2024

Your submission for this review:

Water is an essential service. Given the current cost of living challenges, it seems unconscionable that an 18% price rise or anything above the current CPI would be considered. There is no alternative water supplier to keep rates competitive therefore the CPI should be the benchmark for price increases.