

Author name: Name suppressed

Date of submission: Tuesday, 15 March 2022

Your submission for this review:

Firstly why did IPART even consider to grant this water rate rise? CCC does not have a revenue problem. CCC has a spending problem with poor financial decisions. An all time high salary for the new CEO and all the directors. This Council is out of control with the rate payers money and well see more over spending from here on. The state of the Central Coast is at an all time low with Terrigal and surrounding suburbs seeing real improvements such as roads, parks, parking station, regular street sweeper been used, well maintained islands, mowed parks and other nature strips, street cameras installed and the list goes on. Why can CCC grant themselves over $200k of rate payers money to hire a private consultant company to prepare and lodge a water rate rise against the people that provided those funds. It would be fair to say that the rate payers should have been extended the same generosity from CCC to pay for another private consulting company to challenge the CCC water rate rise submission. Both CCC and Ipart have tired people out with all these emails and resubmitting emails that really dont go anywhere. The Administrator has used propaganda and spin to put fear into the community to achieve this water rate rise. It is Iparts draft but we dont have experts at writing [REDACTED] for $200k You are still giving us a chance but its not an even playing field Whats the point. Watch the spending go through the roof when CCC gets their hot hands on this extra cash and most will still have brown dirty water delivered to the house. Not to mention that the water and sewer Director is hinting at building a desalination plant! [REDACTED] did this for NSW and the maintenance costs run at hundreds of thousands of dollars per month and no one knows if its even been used. Such a total waste of taxpayers money.