Many renters generally do not have water bills and usually those rental households with excessive usage will pay towards water bills in the landlord's name. The cost of water bills still affects rental prices, which affects renters facing high cost of living and exorbitant rental prices. People living in poverty due to disability are extremely vulnerable and I want to take this opportunity to advocate for everyone in that cohort, including myself. Please keep water rates reasonable, bearing in mind that a raise in rates could make the difference between an individual or family being homeless.
