

Author name: Name suppressed

Date of submission: Wednesday, 21 May 2025

Your submission for this review:

Water prices are a major cost in our farming enterprise. In drought seasons where the costs are still incurred, they are crippling. Who else in today's society pays for something they don't receive? Any increase would be unacceptable . CPI increases would have to be tolerated. Please note the price of our produce and stock is determined by supply and demand NOT cost of production.