

Author name: Name suppressed

Date of submission: Tuesday, 25 October 2022

Your submission for this review:

The current methodology does not take into account wildly fluctuating VG valuations, particularly in semi-rural areas with few property sales and highly variable valuation of improvements. This has resulted in 21% increase in council rates, well beyond cost of living or inflation. The methodology should include maximum and minimum changes in final individual rates to keep them within an acceptable home budget limits.