

Author name: Name suppressed

Date of submission: Thursday, 5 December 2024

Your submission for this review:

IPART should come down and hold an open meeting Deniliquin if they so believe in their price increases and explain themselves. There will be no irrigation farms left if they continue on this path. Destruction of the local towns and communities. People in the big cities should be aware their will be food shortages soon we just cannot keep putting up prices and expect food to be grown.