I vehemently oppose any price increase above 3% per annum. The suggestion of a 17% increase and &% increase is ludicrous, and for the suggestion I suggest the board of Sydney water be summarily dismissed for gross incompetence. I also strongly oppose the idea of a return on public assets. When I buy a car to use for private purposes, there is no concept on a return on investment. Let me be clear, the public funded the public assets and the idea that the public be continually charged for such assets is absurd. Similarly, parks purchased for public use have no return on investment. Sydney water exists to provide a service and not to be a profitable business. Again the persons who suggested a return on public assets are either [REDACTED]
