We feel that Sydney Water has been a very good provider of water service to us as a family for the last fifty years. We also feel that Sydney Water has provided these services at a very fair price. We understand that assets do depreciate and that demand for services continue to increase, resulting in the need for significant capital investment. Given that we are now aged pensioners, we appreciate the generous discount applied to our water bills. The proposed increases will have no doubt an impact on cost of living expenses for us and many others but there seems to be no alternatives to the capital expenditure required going forward. Thank you.
