

Author name: Name suppressed

Date of submission: Thursday, 7 November 2024

Your submission for this review:

Access to water is a human right and vital for production of food. Feeding the population is a component of "Governmental Responsibility" and it is vital that food is produced at the lowest possible cost. This ensures access by the entire population, not just the elite, and allows food producers to have quality of life. We are no longer in the Dark Ages where serfs slave for elites.