ROB GITTINS

Chief Executive Officer (Acting)

Rob has over 30 years' experience in the development and construction. He has extensive general management experience with strong skills across the full industry value chain from strategy, site acquisition, design, development, construction, finance and sales & marketing, gained in Australasia and the UK. Rob has a passion for innovation, balanced with a strong focus on execution and a philosophy for business success based on striving for continual improvement by working with the Executive Team and the Board to deliver revenue growth and productivity improvements.

As CEO for Flow Systems Rob is focused on driving efficiencies across business development, project delivery, retail and operations. Rob is transforming the company through providing a platform of success – enabling the transition through Flow's growth phase. In the medium term, Rob wants to turn those efficiencies into realisable gains to make Flow Systems the ultimate alternative to incumbents.

Rob is responsible for the Business Development team ensuring their ability to convert opportunities, the Project Delivery, Retail, Operations, and Marketing teams.

Before joining Flow Systems, Rob undertook an extensive enterprise-wide multi-million-dollar Core Systems SAP program to transform Stockland's business operations. His role was leading the asset development work-stream which was fundamental to and underpinned Stockland's operations across its residential, commercial property and retirement living business units by working with Stockland's Executive Committee and key stakeholders to deliver the desired outcomes of its Core Systems program.

He also managed the residential Executive Management Team for Frasers Property Group including transforming the combined Frasers-Australand marketing function by overseeing several strategic marketing and systems development projects expanding the existing offshore sales distribution channel, delivering a national loyalty program, and the Digital Communications Platform. He also managed Australand's in-house Contact Centre and initiated a focus on providing a relevant customer experience.

Jason Frey Customer Experience Manager

Jason has over 20 years' experience in customer service and sales, delivering exceptional growth in business sales for IKEA, Qantas and AGL. Jason brings an in-depth knowledge of the energy industry, and his ability to build and strengthen business relationships enhances the customers experience in the various industries Jason has been a part of.

At Flow Systems, Jason's primary role is customer acquisition and retention. Jason achieves this through analysis of customer churn and development of retention campaigns. He strives at all times to offer solutions that will aid in the acquisition of new customers. Jason also ensures that quality customer service is delivered by actively monitoring interactions to ensure agreed timeframes and to ensure everyone is provided an exceptional customer experience at Flow Systems.

During his time at Ikea, Jason achieved, in his first year, a growth in the business unit from $90K a month in sales to $300K a month in sales. He secured new ongoing major accounts leading to continuous return purchasing of over $2.5 million in revenue. Through his various achievements Jason ensured that Ikea's business transactions and exceptional customer service was prominent in the store, leading to growth in revenue of an average of 15 percent.

At AGL, Jason had exceeded his sales budget by $1 million. This was recognised with Jason receiving the AGL Winning Ways Award for superior customer service in sales achievement. It was Jason's resilient focus on developing strong connections with customers with specific interest in their business needs that helped him achieve such recognition. Jason helped spread his strengths across a team by training and supporting a sales team of 15 customer services consultants.
