

Author name: a. gillard

Date of submission: Wednesday, 13 June 2018

Submission: The metering process is convoluted and inefficient. I have had clients waiting for up to six weeks just to get a meter installed on an energized switchboard. Things seemed much smoother and quicker when most level 2 contractors could do metering.