

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Wednesday, 1 May 2019

Submission: Why should the public be penalised by paying higher cost of public transport when it's beyond their control where jobs are found? Paying more to get public transport to the workplace to make a living is counterproductive.