

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Friday, 19 April 2019

Submission: Rural properties provide the vast majority of their own water infrastructure, namely dams & water tanks. Most of the stormwater and drainage infrastructure is provided for city dwellers & in particular the massive amount of new development in the area.

It is wrong to ask people who use next to nothing of this infrastructure to pay massive amounts more than what they already pay.