

SUBMISSION TO IPART REVIEW
SOLAR FEED-IN TARIFFS 2017/18

Friday, 19 May 2017

6:18:14 PM

We believe that leaving the retailers to set their own minimum price is not working because some of them opted for zero$, and then the others simply competed with a very low counter proposal.

The government should set a minimum fair price that reflects the intrinsic value of clean green energy supplying the environs of the customer/producer and a FiT price that rises comparatively when the cost of electricity from other sources increases. Thereafter, let market forces apply.

Barbara Junghans

Postcode: 2084