Those of us who have paid out the money to not only help the environment but also to try to help reduce our power cost have been screwed over by the retailers of electricity as we are only paid 6c per kwh when they are selling the power we have paid to generate for between 300% to 700% for what we are being paid. I understand they want to make a profit but they have ensured that they still make money from us by charging an availability charge which is around $100 per quarter even if we did not use any power. Fair is fair give us a fair price for what we have already paid out thousands of dollars for without the blatant rip off.
