SOLAR FEED-IN TARIFFS 2017/18

After all the years we fed into the grit with our extensive solar installation, we are most certainly not happy with what is on offer now regarding the returns. We do need a fair price for solar - what is around, is just not fair. The tariff should not only increase with the wholesale price of electricity and not be a benchmark range but it should be regulated so retailers have the chance to offer this at least as a minimum. With our climate in Australia and virtually an oversupply of sunlight, it is totally incomprehensible that we seem to be struggling to supply fair priced electricity. One just needs to look to Europe/Germany in particular - amazing results in THAT climate!
