I am writing to express strong dissatisfaction with current solar electricity feed pricing. The very minimum changes toward a fairer pricing structure should include:

A feed in tariff which increases in line with the wholesale price of electricity;

The feed in tariff should be regulated to ensure retailers have to offer an appropriate minimum rate;

The rlfed in rste should represent the true value of solar energy to Australia as a country and its citizens and environment today and into the future.

The drop from 60 cents per unit to 6 cents per unit has had a severe impact on our ability to manage household costs and is an uncoscionable cut to we Australian citizens who have made investment into clean renewable energy producing stuctres. Doubling the 6 cent per unit rate is really a minimum acceptable increase.
