SOLAR FEED-IN TARIFFS 2017/18

I have solar panels on the roof of my house which I regard as a small contribution to move form fossil fuels and respecting the environment of the planet. I think that all responsible levels of government should fully support the use of renewable energy supplies and provide a fair price for solar and increase the feed-in tariff in line with the wholesale price of electricity. Governments are still subsidising coal extraction which has been demonstrated to increase global warming with its consequent negative effects on the Great Barrier Reef.
