Why should big business NOT BE good corporate citizens. After all, isn't being FAIR and EQUITABLE the Australian way.
For too long, solar connected citizens, have been the butt joke of the big players.
It's great that IPART starts showing some teeth to obtain fairness for:
Genuine fair pricing for solar
Fair increments along with the increasing wholesale price
Regulation set-up for feed-in tariff minimum pricing
True value for solar generated supply

The two systems on our dairy farm, 5kw and 16kw, have assisted in reducing overhead costs. It has assisted, along with other cost cutting measures, in maintaining the job of two employees in this toughest of all times for dairy farmers.
A better price for our solar power from the retailers would have been nice!
