Submission: NSW Container Deposit Scheme is a great way of having a cleaner and neater environment to be living in. It is working quite well as I am contributing each week into this scheme. Despite the long queue which is expected but does not stop me from utilising the service. What IPART should be doing is having a price control of how much should the supermarkets and shops can increase the beverages and water to. Since the introduction of the Container Deposit Scheme, the supermarkets and small convenience stores have increased it dramatically which is totally unfair on the consumers. There should be a price control. Also the Deposit Scheme should accept wine bottles, the service provider of the deposit scheme should be contacting all the service providers and getting them to accept the scheme and maybe charge them monthly and annually to recoup the funds. Also the more bottles the scheme accepts, the more clutter and rubbish around the Deposit Scheme is invisible.
