

Author name: K. Dawson

Date of submission: Tuesday, 8 May 2018

Submission: We have been generating very cheap electricity for the grid from our home for a number of years. The commercial world benefits greatly from this. It is not acceptable that such a low rate is paid back per kw especially as we are charged more than double this rate to receive power. IPart must ensure a fair and just price rather than penalising solar generating power from households like ours It also assists in lowering the carbon output in line with our international obligations