Submission: Catherine Hill bay is an iconic little coastal town, highlighted by its magnificent beaches. It is an area that should be respected and used in the correct way, which is to enjoy and preserve its beauty for future generations.

A lot of people make the effort to go out to Catherine Hill Bay to visit its spectacular beach and swim in the crystal clear water and rock pools.

Building a sewer outlet that will be allowing waste water to enter the pristine coastline, would ruin this incredible area for the locals, visitors and the future generations that won't get to experience its amazing clear water.

I have grown up my whole life traveling to Catherine Hill Bay beach with my family to watch my dad and brother surf. And still enjoy days with the family, friends and my partner at this beautiful beach.

My dad has surfed this pristine coastline since he was a teenager and is now 54 and Catherine Hill Bay is still his one and only favourite surf spot.

To damage the water quality and therefore threaten marine life and the coastline for all, would be a terrible mistake.

We are trying to encourage a brighter, cleaner, healthier and more enviro friendly future for us and those to come.

So please let Catherine Hill Bay be.
