

Author name: L. de Paulis

Date of submission: Monday, 7 May 2018

Submission: I cannot believe there is still people in government making these decisions that have no logic whatsoever. Where is the new generation of leaders coming on board with policies towards a cleaner and sustainable environment? The kW I produce on my roof is as good as the one coming from the grid, so I should be getting paid just the same amount to represent the true value of solar; not only my investment is helping the coal plants reducing their load so they save money, but this electricity is 100% clean energy with zero emissions which is in fact helping every body in the long run. The picture feel like highway robbery.