Submission: "Ten years ago I made the environmentally responsible decision to power my home by solar energy. I am a widow, a mother a grandmother and an educator. I believe solar owners, who are caring for this planet in a small way, are helping future generations to live the sort of life we have been so fortunate to enjoy. I believe our governments should look to the forward thinking of South Australia and so many European countries and value our free source of energy from the Sun, of which Australia has an abundance. It is a long overdue consideration that solar owners should be paid a FAIR price for the power we generate. If Electricity companies can charge what they think is fair, solar owners should be paid the same price per kilowatt hour for what we produce. It is a disgrace that this country is not embracing renewable energy, employing our talented scientists, engineers and inventors in developing a reliable and clean source of energy. Come on, put Australia at the forefront. We deserve it. And pay us a reasonable and fair price for our production - not a pittance."
