

Author name: N. dChristopher

Date of submission: Friday, 4 May 2018

Submission: "I was induced to spend over $20,000 to reduce my carbon footprint by promised feed-in tariff of $0.60c for the first tranche of solar panels in NSW. This was a promise from the government. Twice since then, government has reduced this tariff and permitted IPART to allow electricity rate increases that have more than DOUBLED my electricity bill. My breakeven for my expenditure on my solar panels today is exactly the same as when I installed them 10 years ago.

Fortunately I am now in a state seat which at best for the government is now a swinging seat. The new local member's approach to this electorate is exactly the same as the government today. She:

1. doesn't know where's she's lived in the last 10 years,
2. nor does she know how many university degrees she has, and
3. did not complete a statutory declaration for the Electoral Commission when submitting herself as a candidate - obviously a graduate of the [REDACTED] school of civics.

If the current state government does NOT stop the stupidity of IPART and fire the chairperson, after 50 years of voting conservative, I will abandon the liberals as they have abandoned me. Shame on you."