SOLAR FEED-IN TARIFFS 2017/18

I believe that the solar feed-in tariff should reflect the contribution that solar panel owners are making to electricity production. The price should at least reflect the increase in wholesale electricity prices and it should be regulated so that retailers must offer it as a minimum.

We have made a major outlay on solar panels on our own house and on a rental house. This was done partly to save money and partly because I believe that renewables should be adopted for environmental reasons. The climate change threat is real and huge so the incentives to switch out of fossil fuels asap must be as attractive as possible.
