I fully support a fair price for solar. We all made this investment to help our state, country and the planet from further damage to our health and more importantly, for the well being of all species that are so vastly affected by human behavior. Why do our elected representatives subsidise old technologies that are no longer suitable for us (and the planet) and allow such old technology companies to rob decent people who are implementing the best advice available to stop all the damage being perpetrated on us and our children?

My family are only getting 6.6cents/kWh for every kWh exported, while we are charged 24.4cents/kWh that we import from the energy supplier. How is this not legalised robbery? After all, the state and federal governments have encouraged us to invest in solar for all the good reasons.

Please correct this incongruous situation by mandating a FIT that is recommended by IPART (or better).
