SOLAR FEED-IN TARIFFS 2017/18

I support a fair price for solar and am unable to understand why the price should not be in line with the wholesale price for electricity. Some household solar producers who installed systems some time ago have invested a significant amount of capital - why should they not be able to get a fair return on that investment particularly taking into account the environmental and health benefits to the community. A mandated price ought to be a minimum which companies are obliged to pay.
