Submission: "Dear IPART,

I believe in fairness and a fair go, I don't believe in opportunistic greed. Not paying a fair price for goods delivered by the energy retailers and wholesalers is opportunistic greed. Solar owners are already being robbed by the current unfair 'feed in tariff' (FiT) being paid by the energy traders, many of which offer less than the IPART recommended FiT.

Energy supplied by Solar has and is providing super cheap energy to the energy market who on sell it with profit more than 101% against the lowest FiT 11.9 cents and 117% against the highest FiT of 15cents. Solar should be and is helping to bring down the cost of energy for all users. It is unconscionable IPART would even consider lowering the feed in price for solar energy any further given the poor FiT record to date. IPART should raise the FiT not lower it.

The Solar FiT should be regulated and fixed by mandate, possibly tied to CPI. I am totally outraged that given the energy generators and retailers well documented shoddy history IPART would even consider such an unconscionable act.

Thank you,
Suska Scobie."
