Submission: This is an absolute fail - I have been to return my collection of cans several times, each and every time one of the two plastic/can return machines have been broken leaving long lines or even worse they have been full and not emptied for days on end. There are not nearly enough collection points. I live on the NSW Central Coast, this is a rapidly growing area yet there are collection points in ridiculous locations and the closest one is a 20 minute drive for me. The use and cost of fuel instantly reduces the benefit of this scheme. Shops are also increasing their prices by 20c+ per container and have signs up to say it is due to this scheme...whilst its a great initiative, it has been delivered and planned very poorly. We need a lot more machines in more locations for this to even start to be effective.
