

Author name: S. Gill

Date of submission: Wednesday, 6 June 2018

Submission: The current power of choice system doesn't work. There is not enough info for contractors and the wait times for meters are ridiculous. There was nothing wrong with the way the old system worked for contractors. It was simple and provided the customer with power when they needed, not in 3 months time when the retailer sends out a contractor to install their meter.