

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Thursday, 12 April 2012

Submission:

I personally think the continuous big increase in electricity over the last few years including this one is too much.

Due to the economy downturn, a lot of families are struggling to meet their daily living costs. Electricity being a necessity for everyone, I think the government should allocate more funds to subsidise this sector to avoid huge increase as such.

Thanks for your attention.