Submission: Dear Sir,

We are a family of 3 people live in a standard single story house. Our average daily usage is less than 500 liters and we are paying around $300 per quarter for the water bill. In my view it is not fair hitting every one with a $148 Waste water (Sewerage) service. It has to be proportional to their water usage. We are trying hard to use less water, but we still end up paying the same amount due to the waste water service.

I don't mind paying a little extra for water usage, but we need to seriously think about this unfair pricing for sewerage service. I sincerely hope someone will listen to my point.

Can you please pass this to Sydney water pricing review board.

Best Regards
