

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Monday, 21 December 2015

Submission: The weekly struggle is tough. Paying bills, keeping our heads above water, trying to save for a home of our own. I was married 6 weeks ago & reality hits hard.

Traveling to & from work each day, I easily hit the $60 threshold that currently applies. That's before my 'free' trips even kick in.

Perhaps you need to consider the areas that will suffer the most. These areas are some of the most poverty stricken in Sydney. Instead of continually penalizing these areas, look at the big picture for a change??