Submission: Hi

I'm extremely disappointed when I saw this draft.

What evidence have you got when you claim the fares would drop after 1 July for 60% of people? Have you done any kind of research?

I guess I'm the unfortunate 40% then.

It costs me $4.20 one way to get to work. Under the current scheme it's $33.60 per week.

According to your new draft it will cost me $42 per week after 1 July.

That's nearly a 30% increase! Even more expensive than the paper ticket before! Now I really regret changing to Opal.

What happens to encouraging people to use public transport more? You call this encouraging?

What happens to the promise the government made when they claimed using Opal is a lot cheaper than the paper tickets?

And I'm sure there are lots of people like me who have to pay more to get to work and this is absolutely unfair!

Please review your unreasonable draft and do your homework before you release anything to the public!

Regards
