Submission: I travel between Campbelltown and Parramatta. A lot of stations on that line don't have barriers just tap on tap off posts. I see lots of passengers simply walk past the posts when exiting and I know that if you tapped on but didn't tap off you could be hit with a higher fare. However, if you didn't tap on and didn't tap off you have a free journey. Therefore your paid for Opal card can last forever. I know that Inspectors can examine your ticket and determine if you have tapped on but I'm sure if you haven't you could find some excuse. I might add that in all the time I have been using my Opal card I have never seen an Inspector checking cards. I believe that a lot of revenue is being missed this way.
